DIGITAL LITERACY PILOTING IN LITHUANIA AND SPAIN

BY VERSLI MAMA and M&M PROFUTURE TRAINING

After the training sessions in digital skills of the CREW project, our students have received their certificate of participation.

In these sessions, they have been introduced to the world of technologies as job search tools, they have known better how to use digital tools (email, calendar, notes, images, etc.), for professional and personal improvement. It has been a pleasure for us to have them as participants.

All training participants rated the pilot training as beneficial for their personal development and future careers. Such an assessment leads to the conclusion that although there were participants with different educational and experience background, trainings were organized efficiently and appropriately.

Participants were interviewed anonymously by filling out an online questionnaire. Feedback report is prepared based on 8 out of 12 training participants' answers.

The digital literacy training for Lithuanian and Spanish women was funded by the European Commission's Erasmus + program, so the ladies didn't spend a penny.

"Hi! I am a multi-child mother, working in the field of beauty. Recently I started a pretty new brand. We sell silk products (pillow covers) that help to nurture the skin, hair-saving rubber bands and similar items", says Lithuanian project participant Neringa Šiaudikienė, with a diploma in digital literacy training she has completed in year 2021.

#CREW TEAM KICK-OFF IN ATHENS

BY KOKKALIS FOUNDATION

#CREW managed to navigate its developmental activities through COVID-19 times without any face-to-face meeting for more than a year. Needless to say, how special it was to have a real kickoff in Athens at the very end of November 2021, finally. All partners made a brief presentation about their organizations, and shared information concerning the ongoing Erasmus+ projects they are in charge of. It helped us to know each other better.

#CREW AMONG GOOD ANDRAGOGY EXAMPLES IN LITHUANIA

BY VERSLI MAMA

Lithuanian Education Exchange Support Fund organized a remote practical conference "How to strengthen inclusion in projects? Practical Tips for Increasing Inclusion and Diversity in International and National Projects" in December 17, 2021.

The aim of the conference is to present as widely as possible the experience of organizations working with people with fewer opportunities and to encourage other organizations to more actively involve participants with individual needs in their activities.
